

Running Redis script

This script is an simple demo of interacting with Redis using the Python library. You should have Redis installed on your computer.

Currently working on: - Encrypting key/value pairs within enclaves - Port code to C/C++

Start Redis server on port 6379 (default port)

Port 6379 by default:

```
redis-server
```

Install redis python library

```
pip install redis
```